WILDCAT COAL STRIKE ENDED IN YORKSHIRE

THOUSANDS RETURN TO WORK, MONDAY, LIFT GLOOM

London, Sept. 11 (P)—A wildcat coal strike that had crippled industries and deepened Britain's economic gloom was settled today with a back-to-work vote of Grimethorpe Colliery Workers in Yorkshire.

Two thousand workers voted unanimously to end the five-week walkout on Monday. Labor sources said the 38,000 who were still striking in sympathy would go back to work automatically, joining the 20,000 other sympathy strikers who already had returned to the pits.

The strike, which affected only a portion of the nation's 730,000 miners, had cost Britain about 560,000 tons of coal, or about one-fourth of one per cent of the national production goal for 1947.

The Grimethorpe Workers accepted a "face saving" formula through which 150 coal diggers among them will return to their old 21-foot "tint," or daily coal target. Meanwhile, the government's national coal board and the mine union will reconsider their joint order for a 23-foot stint which the miners had protested would endanger them without increasing production.

Dewey Asks Action On Homeless Jews, Palestine Partition

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 11 (P)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey called today for quick United Nations adoption of a plan to establish separate Jewish and Arab states in Palestine to end what he termed the tragedy of shipping homeless Jews into Germany.

His statements came in Rosh Hashanah (Jewish New Year's) greeting to Jewish residents of New York state.

The governor, an undeclared contender for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination, also urged:

1—Federal legislation to permit the absorption of our share of displaced persons of all religions.

2—Adoption without delay of another U. N. special committee recommendation to permit the immigration of 150,000 Jews into Palestine within the next two years.

Milk Price Goes Up To 19 Cents A Quart In Detroit

Detroit, Sept. 11 (P)—Detroiters will pay a cent more for milk beginning next Tuesday.

The increase, announced today, results from a 14-cent agreement between the Michigan Milk Producers association and Detroit creameries to boost the price of Class I milk from $4.60 to $4.90 a hundredweight.

Howard F. Simmons, secretary-manager of the association, said grain feeds and labor costs were at an all-time high "and feed prices are still rising."

Milk prices will go from 18 to 19 cents a quart. Coffee cream will increase from 20 to 21 cents a half pint and whipping cream from 39 to 41 cents a half pint.

BALLPOINT PEN FIRM FOR SALE

Millionaire Reynolds, 54, Wants More Time For Aviation Research

Chicago, Sept. 11 (P)—Milton Reynolds, who ran the ballpoint pen idea into a multi-million dollar fortune within a few months, said today he was putting his pen company up for sale.

"I'm interested in freeing myself from some of my business interests to devote more time to aviation," Reynolds, 54, said in an interview. He flew around the world with Capt. Bill Odom and in August he financed Odom's record world hop of slightly more than 72 hours.

Reynolds said he would like to close a deal whereby he could remain a director of the company after its sale.

His career has been one of big gains and big losses. In the autumn of 1945, when the public was looking for Christmas gift items, he brought out the ballpoint pen for $12.50. He brought out new models frequently and by last Christmas a set of three of his pens was selling for $9.99.

He clipped his price again and in April of this year introduced a new model, writing in two colors, for 98 cents. A one color job now costs 59 cents.

He said his company has 110,000 dealers, ships 60,000 pens a day and is 500,000 pens behind in orders. He tapped the foreign market on a series of airplane flights in which he conducted his own sales campaign.

At 20, he said, he became a tire dealer and in six years built up a million-dollar fortune. At 30 he was broke. His next big break came when he brought out a printing device to manufacture show cards for department stores. His contracts in this field gave him the skeleton organization for his pen merchandising.

A single idea once made him a half million, Reynolds related. He flew in a load of cigarette lighters from Mexico and the lot was gobbled up by a hungry market.

His ball pen was as well welcomed by the public. In the first three months his firm netted $2,000,000.

Eisenhower Hasn't Said He Won't Run If He's Nominated

New York, Sept. 11 (P)—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower today again disavowed efforts to draft him as Republican candidate for the presidency but his remarks shed no light on whether he would reject a nomination offer.

At a news conference at Columbia University, whose president he will become next year when he retires from the army, Eisenhower characterized any draft movement in American politics as "an artificial stimulant."

He underscored his comments by asserting "I do not think a man who has been a professional soldier should be in any political capacity. I do not think it is good for the army and it is not good for the soldier."

Bullets Punctuate Marriage Vow As Bride, 17, Is Slain

Denver, Sept. 11 (P)—Murder charges were filed today against Charles E. Geiser Jr., 23, who told police he recited "until death do us part" as he blasted five bullets into his 17 year old bride of less than three weeks.

Deputy District Attorney Raymond E. Banks recommended the Denver university student be held without bail.

Geiser said in a signed statement to Det. Sgt. Arthur Shotwell, he punctuated each word of the marriage vow with a blast last night from the pistol pointed at Gertrude (Sue) Geiser, a car hop from Kansas he wooed after she waited on him in an eating place. She died almost immediately of wounds in the face and arms.

Fourteen-year-old Sylvia McNabb, sister of the slain girl, witnessed the shooting in Mrs. Geiser's one room apartment where she lived after separating from Geiser three days after their Aug. 22 wedding.

"She was the only girl I ever loved," Geiser was quoted by police as saying.

The slaying climaxed a discussion over an annulment of the marriage, Geiser related. He claimed he went to the apartment with the gun only to "frighten her" into returning wedding and engagement rings.

Geiser after the shooting notified a woman friend who summoned police. He offered no resistance when police arrived, they reported.

Jacqueline Ness, an occupant of the same apartment building, said Geiser passed her on the way to the telephone and that she heard him mutter:

"That's the last man she'll ever hurt."

LOTTERY NEWS STORIES LEGAL

Postoffice Department Reverses Itself On Law Opinion

Washington, Sept. 11 (P)—The Postoffice Department reversed itself tonight and ruled that newspapers may legally report on "a newsworthy event" in which there is incidental mention of a lottery.

It held that it was proper for the St. Louis Star-Times and other papers to carry stories about the Negro who was temporarily denied an automobile he won in a lottery.

The St. Louis paper had been cautioned by Postmaster Bernard F. Dickmann of St. Louis, who said the paper would have been barred from the mails, under anti-lottery laws, had publication of the story been noted at the time.

Tonight, Frank J. Delany, the department's solicitor, wrote Dickmann that after consultation with Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan, "I have concluded that despite the literal wording of the law it was not intended to exclude from the mails publications of such items as x x x which have a news value in their own right and in which the lottery element is only incidental to a newsworthy event."

"This law was not designed to suppress information of news value to the public, even though incidentally connected with a lottery."

"As a consequence of this interpretation of the law, the opinion previously given you is reversed. It is my opinion that notwithstanding incidental reporting of a lottery the publication is maintainable."

Teachers To Get Full Payment On Retirement Funds

Lansing, Sept. 11 (P)—Payment of the full amount due the teachers' retirement funds was ordered today by Auditor General Muriel K. Aten in compliance with a ruling by Attorney General Eugene F. Black.

Aten said he was sending vouchers for $1,338,321 to the Detroit Teachers Fund and $3,161,179 to the State Teachers Fund, covering out-state educational employees.

The funds had already received $1,000,000, thus bringing them to the full $5,500,000 appropriation.

Budget Director John A. Perkins sought to hold the funds off with a $1,000,000 token payment pending litigation over the school aid appropriation act.

Foster Mother And Grandfather Held In Child Drowning

Elizabethtown, Ky., Sept. 11 (P)—State and county officials charged a grandfather and a foster mother with murder here today in connection with the Labor Day drowning of Dorothy Juanita Houback, 5.

At nearby Hodgenville, Larue County Judge E. L. Cantrell said he had issued murder warrants for Mrs. Grace Sallee, 53, foster mother, and Joseph Edward Salkill, 55, grandfather of the child. Both were held in jail here.

Capt. Bert Felner of the state bureau of investigation said Mrs. Sallee told him the child accidentally fell into the Nolin river and was drowned while on a Labor Day picnic.

He said Salkill related that Mrs. Sallee had taken out two small double indemnity insurance policies on the girl a short time ago, naming herself as beneficiary. The state officer also said Salkill had signed a statement implicating Mrs. Sallee in the drowning.

RATE ON FIRE INSURANCE UP FOR MICHIGAN

INCREASES TO COST POLICY HOLDERS $3,326,272

Lansing, Sept. 11 (P)—Michigan fire insurance rates today jumped an average of 12.2 per cent.

The increase, laid to inflation and to a substantial increase in fire losses, was ordered by State Insurance Commissioner David A. Forbes.

He said the increase would cost policy holders on new business and renewal policies after today $3,326,272 on the basis of the 1946 premium volume of $27,213,465.

"Present rates did not contemplate the inflated dollar," said Forbes, "nor the number of losses that have occurred in the past few years. It is self-evident that, because of the inflated dollar, a loss that would have amounted to $10,000 in 1942 is nearer a $20,000 loss today."

He said the last general fire rate division was a five per cent reduction in 1944, and there has been no other general change since 1929.

In 1946, the fire insurance premiums written in Michigan totaled $27,213,465 while losses paid were $15,654,279 for a loss ratio of 57.5 per cent, Forbes said. He added that the loss ratio for the past five years stood at 58.3 per cent.

The department considers 50 per cent as a fair loss ratio.

He declared that at present rates, several insurance companies have withdrawn from Michigan, others have reduced their writings and the public is having trouble obtaining adequate coverage.

Only classifications which escaped raises that range from five to 25 per cent were dwellings without fire protection, summer dwellings, sprinklered buildings, farm property, fire-proof buildings and all classes of unprotected property.

Forbes said the increase was petitioned in February by the Michigan Inspection Bureau, an organization of underwriters.

MOUNTAIN AREA HAS SNOWFALL

Cars Stalled By Six-Inch Drifts In Colorado And Wyoming

(By The Associated Press)

Six inch snows and freezing weather were recorded in the Rocky Mountains Thursday and a severe tropical storm with winds of near hurricane force was moving up the Atlantic.

The tropical storm was approximately 1,000 miles away from the Battleship Missouri, returning President Truman home from the Rio De Janeiro conference, and both were headed in the same general direction. However, the Missouri was capable of twice the 15 mile an hour speed of the storm and could outdistance it easily if their paths crossed.

The storm center was some 2,000 miles south of Miami, Fla., at midday Thursday.

Meanwhile, a cool air mass from the northwest brought relief from 90-degree heat in the Great Lakes area.

Pikes Peak near Colorado Springs was covered with a six-inch snow cap and Big Piney, Wyo., in the mountains, had a minimum of 21 degrees. Five inches of snow stalled three cars on the 8,335-foot summit of Sherman Hill on the Lincoln highway between Cheyenne and Laramie, Wyo.

Eastward from the Great Lakes, the weather was generally warm and humid. The Far West was moderately cool.

The most widespread rains in several weeks fell in a broad belt from the Great Lakes southwestward to eastern Kansas and Oklahoma.

Earlier in the night the same man was reported to have thrown one victim's empty wallet in his face in anger and robbed a second victim of $16 and a wrist watch.

Aides Get The Works; Truman Talks Himself Out Of Equator Hazing

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Aboard The U. S. S. Missouri with President Truman, Sept. 11 (P)—President Truman faced the awful wrath of King Neptune and talked himself out of it, but top White House aides got "the works" in traditional cross-the-equator hazing ceremonies today.

While Mr. Truman chuckled gleefully, his dignified military and diplomatic aides ran the gamut of punishment meted out by King Neptune's minions.

Willy-nilly, they clutched electrified "shocking" ladders, gulped noxious fluids, got smeared with paint and grease, submitted to mustard massages, smarted under violent paddling, and were ignominiously tossed backward from chairs into a dunking tank.

As the age-old rites progressed, marking the transition from land-lubber "pollywogs" to full-fledged "shellbacks" who have crossed the equator, it came Mr. Truman's own turn to face the baleful glare of bearded King Neptune.

Among other things, he had been indicted by the mythological god of the seas as "a vile land-lubber and polliwog."

With deadpan solemnity, Mr. Truman began to plead his case. He had no "adequate defense," he said, to the charges against him.

"I sincerely hope that you will be as merciful as possible to these poor polliwogs," he went on, gesturing to his aides. "They have no prerogative—not until they arrive back in the United States."

"But the commander-in-chief of the Navy does have a prerogative—which he does not intend to use, however."

Mrs. Truman escaped punishment, and daughter Margaret was required only to sing "Anchors Aweigh" with a sextet of polliwog seamen.

Injured in the crash were: Mrs. David Hay, 53, broken collarbone; Miss Maude Dobbs, 18, broken ankle; Mrs. Flora Constant, 58, of Marquette, cuts and bruises; Mr. Hay, cuts, bruises and possible internal injuries. Schuyler McClellan, 22, of Xenia, Ohio, passenger in the Adams car, received multiple cuts and bruises, and possible other injuries. The driver, Adams, was not badly hurt.

State police officers said that the accident was the sixth successive one reported for this section of highway near Blaney Park. Occupants of the Hay automobile were all relatives of Mrs. Ray Besner of Manistique, and had visited her before leaving for the trip east.

The body of Mr. Dobbs was taken to the Kefauver and Jackson funeral home in Manistique.

Car Kills Mother Saving Her Twins In Baby Carriage

Detroit, Sept. 11 (P)—The 11-month-old Bernier twins were alive today and police credited their mother with saving them by giving her life.

Mrs. Virginia Bernier, 27, was struck and killed by an auto as she wheeled her double size baby carriage across Michigan Avenue in suburban Dearborn.

Seconds before she was hit, however, she gave the carriage a final push that saved the infants' lives.

The driver of the car, especially equipped for a crippled war veteran, was Edward A. Robbins, 33, of Ypsilanti. Robbins lost the use of his legs in France in 1944.

He told police he started to go around another car and did not see the mother until it was too late. He was released pending further investigation.

The 220-horsepower motor "kicked out," according to the pilot, and the plane came down in a low and wooded area. Its nose was buried in the ground.

WORTH BUILDS MODERN PLANTS

Well-Equipped Factories In Stevens Point And Escanaba

The Worth company, nationally known producer of fishing tackle, is completing a building program, which will offer many times the factory capacity held before the war, according to Joseph Worth, Stevens Point, president.

Two new plants have already been erected and occupied in Stevens Point and Escanaba. Of the two plants in Stevens Point, the one which is devoted entirely to the tying of flies, is the most modern factory of its kind, according to Mrs. Joseph Worth, vice president in charge of fly lure production. This factory is air conditioned so that the girls can work comfortably and keep up production even on the hottest days.

The plant was designed from plans made by Mrs. Worth. It has a large and comfortable lounge and recreation room, and throughout it is designed to offer attractions for women. The walls of the Government Zealot

THE overzealous St. Louis postmaster who took the St. Louis Star-Times to task for publishing a story about the Negro who had been temporarily denied an automobile he won in a lottery really started something.

As it happens this story was carried in virtually every newspaper in the United States, including the Escanaba Daily Press. Publication of the story was well within the public interest because in this case it served to correct a gross racial discrimination, at the same time emphasizing the deep roots of a national problem.

The Star-Times responded to the postmaster's warning with an announcement that the paper will continue to publish news stories in the public interest, such as the account of the North Carolina Negro who had won a Cadillac in a lottery but who had temporarily been deprived of his prize.

The St. Louis newspaper further pointed out to the fact that the lottery story was broadcast by radio stations from coast to coast, adding that it is "an absurdity for it to be legal to listen to such news and illegal to read it."

The postal regulations prohibit use of the mails for all matters concerning lotteries or games of chance, including newspapers carrying lottery advertisements or news about prizes. Strangely enough the regulations have never barred the publication of horse racing results, although many millions of dollars are spent yearly on racing bets.

There is, of course, a tremendous difference between a newspaper advertisement regarding a lottery and a news story that tells about racial discrimination against a Negro who won a Cadillac car but who was denied his prize because of his race.

Following the technical language of the law, the St. Louis postmaster probably was within his rights in his warning to the St. Louis Star-Times, but only an overzealous payroller would make an issue of the case and then only because he was unable to differentiate between the letter and the spirit of the law.

U. P. Not Forgotten

OFTEN, state maps made for Lower Peninsula distribution overlook the fact that the Upper Peninsula is a part of Michigan, but Governor Sigler is not making this mistake in the appointment of members of the industrial development commission.

The governor has announced that three members of the committee will be residents of the region above the Straits of Mackinac, since he feels that the Upper Peninsula, with its ore and timber resources, still has a great "economic future."

It is to be hoped that the new industrial development commission will be equipped with funds and personnel so that it can achieve its worthwhile objectives. Tennessee, Mississippi, Indiana and a number of other states have had state departments in operation for some years, and have been outstandingly successful in attracting new industries, particularly during the last few years that "manufacturing concerns have been on the move. These state commissions have advertised extensively in the national business publications and have issued brochures, outlining the various industrial advantages they have to offer.

To be successful, the new Michigan industrial development commission will have to emulate the other states, all of which will require generous appropriations at each session of the legislature.

No More Lend-Lease

BRITAIN'S Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin is doing harm to his country's chances of getting an economic prop from the United States by his various ill-considered proposals to tap Uncle Sam's pocketbook.

Just a week ago Bevin suggested that the United States redistribute its stock of gold at Fort Knox, intimating naturally that a particularly big chunk of it should go to England. That idea fell on deaf ears in this country and it was even questioned by other officials in the British government.

When that plan failed to jell, Bevin stepped forth with another panacea for Britain's economic plight. He proposed a revival of American lend-lease, the wartime device that was used for American financing of the Allies' prosecution of the war against Germany and her Axis partners.

Bevin apparently has forgotten the upsurge that developed in this country when lend-lease was continued for many, many months after the Axis surrender. The upsurge finally was crystallized into action and lend-lease ultimately was abandoned, with resultant anguish from the countries profiting thereby.

As a substitute for lend-lease, the United States loaned Great Britain 3 3/4 billion dollars under extremely favorable credit terms. That money is nearly gone now, much of it wasted, and Britain has made little progress towards economic rehabilitation.

It is inevitable that the United States will have to step in once again and provide another economic prop to Britain and to other nations of the European continent. This time, however, the American congress will insist upon a greater degree of control over the usage of the money and the final plan will not be predicated upon redistribution of Fort Knox gold nor upon a resumption of the loosely-knit outline of lend-lease. It will have to be a program of greater practicability than any of the American aid programs that preceded it.

Blueberry Culture

AGRICULTURAL experts say that the principal difference between the blueberry and the huckleberry is that the former contains numerous small seeds, while the latter has only ten.

Huckleberries are never as good eating as the northern blueberries. The big blue-black nuggets were not so plentiful this season, due to early frosts, but almost everybody in the north country has surrounded a few slabs of delicious blueberry pie, and longed for more.

The sand plains of the Upper Peninsula, with their strong acid content, are ideal for blueberry culture. The state experiment station at South Haven has built up blueberry culture in that area to a point where a quarter of a million quarts of blueberries are grown yearly and retailed at good prices.

The wild berries have never grown on the Lower Michigan sands as they do on the plains of the Upper Peninsula. The downstate volume has been built up by patient, intelligent work, and the same effort applied here might bring still greater results, for the north country is natural blueberry ground.

HIGHER AUTO INSURANCE
(Iron Mountain News)

There's something for automobile owners to think about in the warning of an underwriters' official. That is to look out for another rise in insurance rates on cars unless the rise in motor accidents is reversed.

Two 20 per cent increases have taken place in the last year. One was last August, and another last May. The rates are based on the number of accidents and consequent damage claims.

Several factors contribute to the rising accident rate. One is the age of automobiles. More old cars are on the highways, and when they get involved in an accident, the damage often is more extensive and injuries to occupants more serious than with new cars which can stand the bumps better.

More rigid inspections might help to cut the accident rate, but care on the part of individual drivers is a greater need. Nobody yet has come up with a formula which accomplishes that end. The seriousness of a further rise in insurance rates is that they are now at a level where many car owners decline to carry insurance.

ELECTION HOLIDAY
(Soo Evening News)

A holiday on Election Day, 1948, is a proposal of the American Federation of Labor. President William Green intimates that the idea is to get out as big a labor vote as possible in order to defeat supporters of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Leaving the labor aspects of the proposal entirely out of consideration, the idea is praiseworthy as making possible a large vote. Many states have recognized the principle involved by requiring employers to allow their workers two hours off in which to vote. In Europe, to get out a truly representative total, elections are generally held on Sundays. Whether for this reason or some other, a far larger percentage of voters goes to the polls in Europe than in the United States.

NAMES TO WATCH

A number of important names are occurring frequently in the news. Those of foreign origin are mispronounced on the radio oftener than not, for obviously newscasters and commentators cannot be expected to have all the languages of the world at tongue's tip.

Today's column is offered as a convenient and accurate guide to the pronunciation of certain names which are usually given wrong pronunciations.

French. Georges Bidault: zhawrz bee-DOE.

Paul Ramadier: pawl ra-ma-DYAY (the "g's" almost if not quite as flat as in "ram, mad.") Avoid the radio mispronunciation "rah-MAH-dee-ay.")

Eduard Herriot: ayd-WAR air-YOE (the "a" of Eduard is flat as in arrogant, carrot. The "h" and "t" of Herriot are silent.)

Charles de Gaulle: sharl duh GOLE. (I have been trying for several years to put down the erroneous "dee GAWL" with only indifferent success. This is somewhat surprising for two reasons: (1) the name Charles de Gaulle has been of top headline importance for many years; (2) the correct "duh GOLE" is in no way harder to say than the incorrect "dee GAWL." Common usage often affects and changes the pronunciation of words. But it cannot change the pronunciation of per-

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Warsaw, Poland—In a time of conflict and confusion such as ours, phrases and slogans tend to get in the way of reality. When that brilliant phrase-maker, Winston Churchill, coined the expression "The Iron Curtain," he simplified life for millions of us who could go on repeating it parrotlike and thereby save ourselves the trouble of thinking.

Insofar as Poland is concerned, the reality is enormously more complicated. Here the so-called iron curtain is as full of holes as a sieve. The fact that we are not making more use of the holes in the curtain is our own fault and, in my opinion, it is a grievous fault.

—EMBASSY UNDERSTAFFED—

We should be doing everything possible to spread American ideas and American ideals throughout Poland. We should be advertising the rewards and satisfactions of American life in the way that we know how to do so very well.

Instead, our information office in connection with the American embassy consists of only two Americans and nine Polish employees. They seem to be doing the best they know how, but it is a small candle to set against the fierce wind that blows from the east.

Chief public relations officer is Walter K. Schwinn, who was for fourteen years associate editor of the Hartford, Conn., Courant. During the war, he was chief intelligence officer of the foreign economic administration, serving in Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and Germany. Later he was with the state department in Washington for a year.

His assistant is Chester H. Opal, who formerly did newspaper work in Chicago and later was on the public relations staff of the University of Chicago. He speaks Polish.

In temporary wooden huts behind the ruins of the old embassy building, they maintain a library open to all. They send out to a large mailing list, including all newspapers, copies of speeches by American officials. They work hard for an exchange of students between the two countries.

—AMERICAN MOVIES DISTRIBUTED—

Perhaps the most effective work they do is the circulation of films showing various phases of American life. At least a hundred such documentary films—some made by the government, some by industry—are being shown all over Poland before every kind of club and organization.

One of the most popular of these films was made by the Standard Oil Company to advertise the joys of motoring in West Virginia. It shows the beauty of the countryside and the strength of industry. One Pole was heard to remark, after he had seen the picture:

"What a wonderful country America is! What beautiful highways! And did you notice that nobody was walking on them?"

That last meant a lot in a despoiled country where men and women trudge for miles, with packs on their backs, because there is no transportation of any kind. This is self-advertising that shows America to best advantage.

The U. S. information program should be greatly expanded. We should have branch offices in the industrial city of Lodz and in Katowice, center of the new expanding industrial area in Silesia. There should be a branch in Cracow, the center of the old Poland.

Our information officers here know this all too well. They have been eager to produce a magazine in Polish similar to America, which is so sought after inside Russia. One copy of this was printed in Poland nearly two years ago and there are still repeated demands for it.

The British, in their information set-up, have 19 British employees and 56 Poles. They publish a Polish-language weekly, voice of England, which is almost the only uncensored publication inside Poland.

The point is that the Polish government puts few if any obstacles in the way of such activity. If it were greatly expanded, restrictions might follow, but certainly it would be worthwhile making the effort.

A number of agencies are supervising the distribution in Poland of voluntary relief from America. I talked with a half dozen young Americans with the friends service committee. They told me they had traveled all over Poland without being molested in any way. They found a friendly reception almost everywhere and an unmistakable conviction that the relief distributed through UNRRA had all come from America.

We could do so much more here in this tragic country if only we would. The base for friendship is in the millions of Polish-Americans in the USA. It is deplorable, insofar as Poland is concerned, to go on muttering about iron curtains.

sonal names. If a man's name is "duh GOLE," it's "duh GOLE." If a man's name is "ROZE-uh-velt," it's "ROZE-uh-velt," and not "RUZE-uh-velt." If Mr. Baruch, names his first name (Ber-nard) "ber-NAHRD," it's "ber-NAHRD," and not "BER-nerd," as the commentators like to pronounce it.)

Czechoslovakia. Jan Masaryk: yahn MASS-a-rik. Klement Gott-walk: KLAY-ment GOTT-vahit.

Mexico. Miguel Aleman: mee-GELL (hard "g") ah-lay-MAHN.

Ramon Beteta: rah-MAWN (almost rah-MOAN) bay-TAY-tah.

Norway. Trygve Lie. (TRYE)G-veh LEE. (The "y" in Trygve is a blending of "u" and "ee.") Purse the lips as if to say "u," but, instead, say "ee" without unpursing the lips. In the Colby symbol (E), the () represents the pursing of the lips, and the E represents the sound of the vowel "E" pronounced, as it were, by the whistling position of the lips.)

MISSING PERSONS—Every year there are several thousand Americans who disappear from their homes and are never again heard of. Efforts to trace them through the usual channels fail. Years pass, relatives and friends of the missing person become convinced that the lost one is dead. Occasionally some of them reappear. They were the victims of amnesia, or they had deliberately absented themselves for reasons of their own.

There are few communities that do not have such mysterious disappearances somewhere in their history. Those that are never solved are remembered for many years, are talked about when someone says: "I wonder what ever happened to Charley?" or it might be Joe, or Pete, or Irene. Strange, they will say, that not one trace was ever found.

MYSTERY STILL—It was 10 o'clock the morning of Monday, Oct. 24, 1910. Irene Chaille, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chaille of Newhall, left the house to walk through the woods to a camp where her father was at work. The morning sun was warm and the child wore only a light dress without shoes and stockings. Irene was last seen on the trail to the camp as she passed the home of her grandfather, who called to her. She did not stop, and was never heard of or seen again.

When the child failed to return at noon a search was started. Bloodhounds were ordered, with the cost of their services guaranteed by R. E. MacLean and C. W. Kates of Wells, by Chief of Police Andrew Iverson. Searchers from Escanaba were sent to the Newhall farm area.

Matt Flynn of Escanaba reported to officers that he had heard cries in a swamp near Newhall the morning the child disappeared. On Thursday, three days later, over 100 searchers scoured the woods in the vicinity of the Chaille home but found no trace of the child.

By Tuesday, Nov. 1, the belief was general that the child had fallen into the river and drowned. The river was said to be one-half mile distant from the Chaille home. Another supposition was that the child may have been eaten by a bear, and it was pointed out that because it wore no shoes or stockings, it might have been devoured along with its light dress without leaving a trace.

Friday, Oct. 28, bloodhounds arrived from Coopersville, Mich., accompanied by F. D. Arnold of the Arnold Detective Agency, Grand Rapids. The hounds took the scent near the Chaille home and followed it down the trail to the camp, where the child was in the habit of going. Then they circled about and finally took a trail from the camp to the river.

By Nov. 3, Escanaba people had lost interest in the search. Milwaukee and Chicago newspapers reported erroneously that the child's body had been found in thin ice on the edge of the river. There is no proof that the body was ever found. Belief was at the time the search was given up, that the child had wandered into the river and drowned. (The above information is from the files of the Escanaba Morning Press, 1910.)

SKELETON IN MOSS—It was in 1942 that Theodore Larson, then about 63, left his home at Brampton to visit friends at Bark River. He visited those friends and then left, presumably to return to his home. He was never seen or heard from again. All efforts to locate him or find some clue to his fate were unsuccessful.

Washington—Although it is a long time between now and election day, the straw vote method of ascertaining popular sentiment is beginning to show some interesting results. In rock-ribbed Republican Vermont, the voters have, of course, a deep-seated faith in President Coolidge and the poll taken by the Burlington Free Press shows that the I-do-not-choose-to-run statement did not affect their desires, for the rank and file of voters want to draft Mr. Coolidge.

In the late afternoon of Dec. 14, 1946, Kenneth Palmgren was hunting rabbits in a swamp near Bark River. Pushing through the thick growth of the swamp, the youth stood suddenly quiet. There before him on the ground under a tree were the bones of a human skeleton, half buried in the moss.

At 6:05 p. m., Dec. 14, 1946, the office of Sheriff William E. Miron in Escanaba was notified by Herman Palmgren, Kenneth's father, of the gruesome discovery his son had made.

Officers were dispatched to the scene but because of the darkness at that hour in early winter the skeleton could not be found.

Returning to the swamp the following morning, Sunday, Dec. 15, state police and sheriff's officers were led to the skeleton by young Palmgren. Rubber-banded shoeleaves and part of a mouldy woolen mackinaw covered some of the bones. A belt buckle was another clue. In the tree above head height was the shred of a rope. Officers said they believed the man had hanged himself.

The only persons known to be missing in the Bark River area was Theodore Larson, who had disappeared in 1942.

The shoeleaves, the shreds of clothing and the belt buckle were taken to the sheriff's office. The bones were removed to the Degnan funeral home.

Sons and daughters of Theodore Larson were summoned and asked if they could identify the

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—When President Truman walks down the gangplank from the USS Missouri next week, there will be dumped in his lap a none-too-happy economic report from his council of economic advisers.

The council, set up by congress to take the nation's business pulse and report on how to head off depressions, is more alarmed than ever over high prices and the inflation spiral. In fact, they are so worried that they have been considering the drastic step of recommending reinstatement of price controls.

This step has also been considered by members of the Truman cabinet during his absence, and they are not at all happy about it. They feel that new price controls never would get by congress, would only result in more black-marketeering—unless accompanied by rationing, and nobody wants to have rationing come back.

However, the council of economic advisers, a group of experts picked from neither political party, is concerned not with what congress may or may not think, but solely with heading off depression. And they will inform the President:

1. That the present runaway prices coupled with inflation will continue for some time.

2. That continuation will lead to a real depression, rather than a recession.

They will also caution that the low-income public—which makes up the vast majority of the nation's consumers—has been using up its savings, because prices are so high that they can't pay their bills out of present income.

—NEW TYPE OF JUNKET—

With Congress busting all records this year for pleasure-junketing at the taxpayers' expense, it is heartening to report that one committee is planning a genuine business trip. GOP Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire has made certain that members of his appropriations committee toe the line on their forthcoming trip to probe U. S. relief-spending in Europe.

"This will be neither a Cook's tour, nor a junket," Bridges has forewarned his committee. "It's strictly a business trip to get information on which we can base future relief appropriations. We have to hit a lot of places in a relatively short time, which means there won't be time for entertainment and socializing."

The New Hampshire senator did not bar senatorial wives, providing they pay all their own expenses. Also wives must travel around by themselves while their husbands are busy on inspection tours.

NOTE—Among other things, the senators will probe the activities of Gen. John "Court House" Lee, and Soviet use of American currency plates to print paper money in Germany.

—GERMAN ESPIONAGE ? ?—

Last month Bob Allen threw penetrating light on the brass-battling of Gen. John "Court House" Lee, U. S. commander in Italy. Among other things, Colonel Allen told how General Lee, in charge of supplies in 1944, had delayed delivery of Christmas mail to men in the front lines. Since then, a GI who helped handle this mail has sent amazing details as to how that 1944 Christmas mail was handled. Here is the story:

"The 17th base post office with more than 1,000 men," he says, "moved out of Cherbourg to better quarters in Paris, leaving the Xmas mail to be handled by the 15th postal regulating section—an outfit with only about 15 men. To help them the 17th base post office left behind about 20 privates, making a total of 35 men to handle what 1,000 men had handled before.

"Naturally it was impossible for this small outfit to handle the deluge of mail, so the higher command detailed several hundred German prisoners to help.

"Each sack of mail had a label with the name of the outfit to which it was to be sent. The German prisoners would pull the sacks over to an American soldier, who would call out the name of the outfit. Another American soldier held a list marked 'secret', containing the exact whereabouts of each regiment or battalion at the front. And he would call out the routing of the sack to the other soldier who would mark this destination on the label.

"All this was done with German prisoners watching and listening. Many of them could speak English, and frequently it seemed to me they were over-curious about their work. Their task was to pile up the sacks of mail, all the sacks in one pile going to one place. Thus it was easy to see merely from the size of a pile of mail sacks where the preponderance of U. S. troops were. And if a large infantry unit's mail suddenly appeared on a pile, it was quite clear that new troops were being moved up to the front.

"It will always be my opinion that the storing up of this 1944 Christmas mail into these piles offered the enemy a topographical map showing the strength and weakness of our troops in the battle of the Bulge."

A 17-year-old Ohio boy pinched for forgery picked the hard way to find out what's in a name.

A. Werner Hardmo of Sweden. He holds the records for the 3,000 meter, 5,000 meter, and 10,000 meter. In addition, he walked 13,593 meters in 42 min., 39.6 seconds—another record.

Q. Can you give me a recipe for almond nougat?
A. 2 cups granulated sugar, 1/2 cup corn syrup, 3/4 cup cream, 2 tbs. butter, 4 egg whites beaten stiff, 1/2 cup blanched almonds, chopped, 1/2 tsp. vanilla, and 1-3 tsp. almond extract. Boil sugar, corn syrup, butter and milk to 265 degrees. Pour slowly into the beaten egg whites beating constantly. Add flavoring, salt and nuts.

Q. Is it true that a cake cutter and server, which cuts and serves cake without crumbling it, has been developed?

A. Yes, it is made of stainless steel and has ivory colored plastic handles. It cuts and grips in a single operation, preserving the frosting intact. And it requires only one hand to operate it.

Q. Do you have a recipe for Swiss lettuce rolls?

A. Mix thoroughly 1/2 cup raisins, 1 cup cottage cheese and 1/2 cup chopped walnut meats. Cream into this 12 1/2 cup mayonnaise dressing until the mixture is smooth and add salt to taste. Spread crisp lettuce leaves thickly with the mixture and roll up like a jelly roll and bind with strips of pimento.

remains as that of their father. They told officers that the clothing was not that worn by their father at the time of his disappearance. The bones themselves offered no clue to the identity of the man who had been dead for several years. Only the front teeth remained in the skull and they had no fillings or other dental work which might provide a clue.

On Dec. 18, 1946, the skeleton was buried in a grave unmarked with any name.

Here then is double mystery: What became of Theodore Larson? And whose bones are those in the unmarked grave?

War Veterans Operate Nationwide Airlines

JOHN WEESNER
AIRLINES OFFICIALS—John Weesner is president and general manager of the Nationwide Airlines, with headquarters in Detroit, and Irving Stahl is secretary-treasurer. Nationwide Airlines, which now operates out of Detroit to Lansing, Menominee and Houghton, will make Escanaba a stop as soon as the airport runways are long enough to accommodate DC-3 planes.

When Nationwide Airlines begins making Escanaba a regular stop on its Detroit-Houghton route within a few weeks, the launching of rapid air transportation here will come indirectly as a reward for the efforts of a group of conservationists who waged the successful campaign for Isle Royale national park.

Back in the spring of 1935, the Wolverine Conservation association opened a drive to save the wilderness Isle on Lake Superior from lumbering exploitation through creation of a national park there. After a vigorous campaign, in which the help of conservationists throughout the nation was enlisted, President Roosevelt signed an executive order, allotting $705,000 in emergency conservation work funds to acquire and develop Isle Royale as a federal park.

brother, John, had learned to fly a small plane at their home in Red Cloud, Neb., an agricultural community of 1,500, where their father has operated a food store for many years.

When World War II broke out, Paul enlisted as a navy transport flier and John joined the Army Air Force, but wound up in the administrative rather than the flying end of the service. Lt. Comdr. and Capt. John Weesner were honorably discharged on the same day in December 1945. They met in Washington, D. C., made plans for incorporation of an air transport concern and purchase of a surplus plane. They went to the War Assets Administration and bought a C-47 army transport for $20,000, paying $4,000 down and agreeing to pay the balance on the easy terms granted war veterans. They expended several thousand dollars more getting the plane into shape for commercial airline service.

The newly-organized Nationwide Air Transport was soon flying its one plane on contract work between Miami, Fla., and New York City. They hauled all kinds of freight, including three racehorses from Santiago, Chile, to New York City.

Then the Weesner brothers got a nice contract from the U. S. Department of Agriculture to transport alien laborers from Jamaica, Barbadoes and elsewhere in the British West Indies to Charleston, S. C. From this assembly point, the workers were sent to work to harvest fields and canneries in various parts of the country.

They converted their cargo ship into a passenger plane. Business was good. They bought four more DCs from War Assets, and a smaller Lockheed as their personal plane. All together, they hauled more than 20,000 laborers back and forth.

About a year ago, the Weesner boys contacted Irving Stahl, who was then operating a travel bureau in Detroit after several years of experience with the Detroit Street Railways and other transport companies. They asked Stahl to drum up some contract business to keep the planes busy during the off-seasons. The Detroiters got a contract to transport the University of Detroit football team to its away-from-home games, later branching out to the hauling of soccer teams from Detroit to New York, Providence, Toronto and other points on the circuit.

With the farm labor transport business tapering off, Nationwide Air Transport began looking for new business.

The Weesner boys decided to put their Lockheed six-passenger plane to work, and sent it from Miami to Detroit, with a request to Stahl that he try to get something for it to do. The Lockheed lay idle at Detroit city airport for three weeks, and then John came north from Miami to see what could be done.

Down in Miami, elder brother Paul got a happy thought. "Why not run up to the Copper Country and see what you can do?" he wrote on a memo to John.

John Weesner and Stahl flew the Lockheed to Houghton, contacted business men and found them enthusiastic over the idea of airline service that would connect the Upper and Lower Peninsulas. They announced that service between Houghton, Lansing and Detroit would start that week. As soon as the news appeared in the newspapers, they were deluged with requests from other Upper Peninsula communities to be "counted in."

Patronage was beyond expectations. The Lockheed was found to be too small, so two DC-3 converted passenger ships were put into service. Iron Mountain was put on the schedule along with Menominee. But only the Houghton and Menominee runways can accommodate the DCs, so a shuttle service is maintained with the Lockheed to serve Iron Mountain. Until Escanaba's municipal airport gets runways long enough for DCs, folks from this area will have to go to Menominee to board the larger planes.

For the Michigan operations, the Weesner brothers organized Nationwide Airlines, with John, now 28, as president and general manager; Paul, 35, as vice president; and Irving Stahl, secretary-treasurer. Paul remains at Miami as president and general manager of Nationwide Air Transport, with John as secretary-treasurer, and their father, R. P. Weesner of Red Cloud, Neb., as vice president. The elder Weesner got into the aviation game by furnishing capital from his grocery business earnings to tide the boys over the rough spots when they were buying more planes.

"The old man was a little skeptical at first, but he's all for aviation now that things are going along fine," said John, recalling some of the early trials and tribulations of the ex-GI flying enterprises.

Will Haul Jumbo Shrimp
Another promising development of Nationwide Air Transport of Miami is the recent signing of a contract to transport jumbo shrimp from the Mexican sea-board to Florida. The large shrimp, numbering seven or eight to a pound, will be hauled in refrigerated planes to Miami, and then distributed along the Atlantic seaboard. Experiments with the new ploffilm packages also will be conducted in cooperation with the Air Cargo Research division of Wayne university. About 7,000 pounds will be carried on each trip.

Nationwide Airlines has made application to the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington for establishment of a regular route between the two Peninsulas. They are now operating in intrastate service, for which reason they must now avoid crossing Wisconsin's Door peninsula on their two-hour flight between Detroit and Menominee. They are also applying for passenger routes from Detroit city airport to Cleveland, Toronto, Chicago and other large cities in the Middle West.

WHALEN NAMED MUCC DIRECTOR

Michigan Man Given
Charge Of U. P.
Office

Marquette, Mich. — Bert J. Whalen, Michigan, arrived here yesterday to assume his duties as area director for the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission and the Michigan State Employment Service.

Under a recent reorganization plan of the MUCC the two districts in the Upper Peninsula were consolidated and one headquarters established. The Marquette office, on the second floor of the Kaufman building, supplants the former offices in Escanaba and alternately in Calumet and Marquette.

Whalen, who has been with the MUCC nine years formerly was stationed in Grand Rapids as field supervisor for the western part of the state. During the war, when the MUCC was absorbed by the War Manpower commission, he was area director for the western division of the state under the WMC.

Whalen was graduated from Michigan high school and got his degree at Northern college in 1927. After teaching in Michigan one year he entered the employ of Sears Roebuck Co., and was assistant manager in several stores in mid-western states.

"Getting back to the Upper Peninsula suits me," Whalen said "and this is like home to me." He is residing in Michigan, but trying to find a home here for his wife and two boys, James 17, and John 6.

Whalen is assisted by Arthur Kent, Escanaba, field supervisor for the eastern U. P., and Albert J. Gavoda, Hancock, field supervisor in the western U. P.

There are 107 employees in the MUCC in the 15 cities in the Peninsula in which there are offices. Newest offices are in Ishpeming and Calumet, which were opened last month. Ishpeming formerly was served by Marquette and Calumet by itinerant service from Hancock.

Other cities in which there are MUCC offices are Marquette, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Iron River, Menominee, Escanaba, Ontonagon, Hancock, Sault Ste. Marie, Munising, Newberry, L'Anse and St. Ignace.

Tom Masterson Covers News In China For AP

TOM MASTERSON

(By The Associated Press)

Because of his wealth of expert information on the Communist-Nationalist fighting in China, much of the news going out of that area to newspapers around the world is being written by a 34-year-old former member of the Michigan Associated Press staff, Tom Masterson.

Masterson, a graduate of Gladstone High School, wrote recently to his wife who is living with their child in Fond du Lac, Wis., that he and a British writer were stranded in a Chinese desert for three days. In their retreat from the arid spot the men rode camels and were entertained by tribal princes.

A Notre Dame graduate, Masterson received his early newspaper training in Wisconsin, first with The Sheboygan Press, then with the Fond du Lac Commonwealth Reporter and later with The Appleton Post-Crescent. He left the latter in August, 1942, to join The Associated Press in Detroit.

There he started as a wire filler and worked up rapidly to the night editorship when he directed the coverage of such stories as the death of Edsel Ford and the series of war factory strikes.

In November, 1945, Masterson transferred to San Francisco preparatory to going to China. He arrived in Shanghai in March, 1946, and has been stationed there since except for about eight months when he was in charge at Peiping.

On the Peiping assignment he supplied first-hand coverage on many civil war stories including the fall of Kalgan to the Nationalists. With four other correspondents, he was held in "protective house arrest" by the Communists from the fall of Changchun on April 16, 1946, to May 6, when U. S. Army planes flew them to Peiping.

In Detroit Masterson was so anxious to get into The AP's foreign service that he studied Chinese in night school. Thus, before he ever saw the Orient he had made a start on the difficult job of learning to speak and write the language.

Tom Masterson, a brother of Miss Helen Masterson of the University of Michigan Extension staff in Escanaba, is on a three-year assignment in the Chinese theater.

Year's Polio Peak May Be Passed Now

Washington, (SS.)—Infantile paralysis may have reached its peak for this year and now be declining, U. S. Public Health Service officials are speculating.

Polio cases, still running far below last year and the five-year median figures, reached 602 for the week ending Aug. 30, latest for which figures are available. This is a high weekly mark for the year so far, but decreases in some states indicate that the number of cases may begin heading downward.

A few states showed a big jump in polio cases over the preceding week. Illinois, now highest in the nation, rose from 53 to 93 cases, and Michigan jumped from 25 to 59. Meanwhile, Ohio dropped from 50 cases to 39 and Wisconsin from 21 to 9.

Figures for the state of Delaware, where the Wilmington area had been having an epidemic, dropped from 29 cases to 28, indicating that the peak is over there.

LEAGUE STUDIES SALES TAX PLAN

City Officials Undecided On Repeal Amend- ment Stand

Marquette, Mich.—The Michigan Municipal League will take a "watch and wait" position regarding the state legislature's proposal to repeal the sales tax diversion amendment. President Jay F. Gibbs indicated here.

Some 400 members, representing 289 cities and villages in the state, opened their 49th annual conference here but planned no immediate official action to fight the suggested repeal.

"It is too early to form lines for a fight against the repeal amendment," Gibbs declared. "We want to see what the legislature does in a special session next January."

While stating that the cities were determined to keep the amendment under which they will draw approximately $30,000,000 of the $180,000,000 collected in sales tax this year, Gibbs pointed out two changes that he said might make the amendment more acceptable generally.

One would be alteration of the second section, which provides for a school grant of 44.77 per cent of the previous year's sales tax. Agreeing that section might cause the state financial difficulty, he asserted:

"I don't see why the legislature cannot * * * either change the second or strike it out entirely. It could fashion an amendment to give the school aid on a current basis."

The schools received $51,700,000 from the general fund on the basis of the percentage, and one-sixth, or $25,000,000 in addition, he said. Besides the school section change, Gibbs proposed that counties get the estimated $7,000,000 now going to townships. Such a move, he said, would lessen the cry of "waste" now heard regarding the township, funds, and would be approved by the cities.

Boats For Fishing Ruled Exempt From Michigan Fuel Tax

Lansing—(P)—Attorney General Eugene F. Black Monday held that any boat used chiefly for fishing, not just commercial fishing boats, were exempt from the 1947 state vessel fuel tax.

Subject to that exemption, he said also that boats powered by inboard motors on navigable waters are not subject to a refund of the tax, even if shorter than 16 feet.

The tax paid on fuel by the owner of a boat livery is not subject to refund on the grounds the boats are used chiefly in business, the opinion said.

Horses Will Aid Army Of Greece

Salonika, Greece, (AP)—Four hundred top quality young horses which were handpicked from German cavalry mounts for the Greek army have been delivered here. Another four hundred horses are scheduled for delivery soon.

The horses arrived in excellent condition, causing Greek cavalry officers to express amazement at the mounts, selected by an ex-cowhand, Maj. James Owens of Uvalde, Tex.

Owens is remount officer of the European theater and once was responsible for 140,000 war captured horses. The Greek Army chief veterinarian says "we expected war weary horses but these young, spirited animals partly answer our problem of reaching rugged mountainous vicinities we couldn't reach by motor vehicle. One Greek soldier is worth 10 rebels if we can approach guerrilla territory which is only possible by animals."

Venetian glass workers were once confined to their own special island to prevent their secrets from being discovered by foreigners.

LaPorte DAV Was Stung By "Better Baby" Stunt

LaPorte, Ind. (NEA)—Proud parents and veterans organizations with slim treasuries had better check twice if a glib-tongued doctor proposes managing a "better baby" health show promotion for them.

That's the advice of Clarence Segelstrom, commander of the local chapter of Disabled American Veterans, and several firms here and in nearby Michigan City.

This is what happened to them: Recently a man who said he was a west coast doctor appeared at a local bank and opened an account by depositing a check for $3075 drawn on a California bank.

The same day he visited Segelstrom and unveiled his scheme for handling a super baby show, to be sponsored by the veterans. The doctor flashed his local bank book. The DAV treasury was down to $11 and stood to net a fat sum from the affair even after the doctor's cut, so Segelstrom agreed.

A man of excessive energy, the doctor said he would handle all the details. Wasting no time he quickly rented a huge auditorium ordered 18,000 tickets from a printing shop and started collecting $20 donations from merchants. These last were to go toward United States "E" bonds as awards to healthiest babies.

The local press gave the coming event a big play and mothers and fathers began grooming their charges. The big day was to be Sept. 20.

Meanwhile the energetic doctor told his new friends he would settle in LaPorte and he took his wife to nearby Michigan City for a shopping spree. There on a Saturday night he bought her an $82.90 outfit and a $525 ring. He paid for both by check after showing merchants his LaPorte bank book.

Apparently fond of jewelry, that same night he returned to LaPorte and tried to buy a $630 ring from a jeweler. But this merchant checked with a bank official by phone and when he learned the $3075 check had yet to clear, he politely declined the proffered check.

The doctor smiled affably and said he'd return Monday when everything would be fixed up.

But this refusal must have alarmed him. For he hustled back to his hotel with his wife and packed their bags. They checked out quickly, grabbed a cab for Michigan City and disappeared.

On Monday word reached LaPorte from the California bank that the $3075 was drawn on a non-existent account by, as far as the bank was concerned, a non-existent man.

Today the DAV is trying to dispose of 18,000 freshly printed and unused tickets, two Michigan City merchants sadly regard worthless checks, and anyone who cares can rent the civic auditorium for Sept. 20.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

tical top at the close was $30.00. Most good and choice burrows and gifts sold between $25.00 and $30.50 and sows between $23.50 and $27.50. Shippers bought 500 of the 6,000 hogs on sale and packers took in 2,000 direct. Cattle were mostly steady, although cows predominated in the run and no strictly choice steers were on tap in load lots. Odd head of prime kinds went up to $35.50 but the loadlot top was $34.50. Most good and choice steers and yearlings brought $27.00 to $34.00 and heifers $26.00 to $30.50. Best heifers merited $31.25, good cows $21.50, weighty sausage bulls $19.25, and vealers $26.00.

Miss Mary Alexander
Returns From Hostel
Journey Into Europe

New York—Miss Mary E. Alexander of 505 South Sixth street, Escanaba, was among the 180 members of the American Youth Hostels who arrived here on board the SS Marine Tiger which docked at pier 34 in the North River after a nine day voyage from Le Havre, France.

The arrival of the vessel marks the end of the second post war European jaunt by the American Youth Hostel Inc.

Miss Alexander and her group sailed for Europe on board the Marine Tiger on June 24.

Nine Michigan boys and girls, all college students, were among the arrivals. Miss Alexander and her fellow hostellers, roughed it, not unlike their predecessors, the GI's, cooking their own meals, laundering their own clothes, making their own purchases and sleeping in sleeping bags. The hostellers combined their usual bicycling and sightseeing with the reconstruction of war-damaged European hostels in Holland, Belgium, Norway and France.

Between trips up and down the highways of Europe Miss Alexander did her bit by helping in the roof repairing, stair building and painting of several hostels in Belgium and Holland.

Pickled Onions

Select tiny white pickling onions. Peel and place in a salt brine made by dissolving one and one-half pounds of salt in one gallon water. Allow onions to stand in brine for five weeks. Drain and rinse in cold water. Drain and pack in sterilized jars. Mix one cup vinegar and one cup sugar and bring to boiling point. Pour boiling hot over onions in jar. Drain off vinegar solution for three mornings, reheating it and pouring over onions in jars. With the third and last heating, add one teaspoon pickling spice to each pint jar of onions. Pour hot solution over them and seal immediately.

Miss Betty Heinz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heinz, has decided to launch out for herself in a business somewhat novel for these parts. She will operate a riding school on the property across the road from the Heinz summer home on Gulliver Lake.

Miss Betty, who graduated from Manistique high school last spring, has for years been enthusiastic about horsemanship and sponsored by her father, is launching this enterprise, with 11 well trained horses as a starter.

She intends to attend the Miami university the second semester of this year.

Break In Cable Gives Trouble Shooters
Much Work

Scores of telephone patrons on Manistique's west side were inconvenienced and the telephone company's trouble shooters were subjected to three days of grueling hard work as a result of a break in the underground wire cable.

Early in the week service along Deer street was suddenly cut off. Maintenance men made a checkup immediately and found that the trouble lay in the underground wires along Deer street, somewhere between Houghton and Mackinaw avenue.

In order to get at the source of the trouble it was necessary to cut through the paving and tunnel until the break in the cable was found.

The cause of the trouble is not definitely known but it is believed a lightning bolt in Sunday morning's thunder storm had struck somewhere along the line and the charge of electricity that resulted caused electrification to set in and disintegrate the lead covering on the cable.

The break was prepared Wednesday night and service is again back to normal.

Len Matchinski At Higgins Lake Camp

Leonard Matchinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhart Matchinski, of Hiawatha township, is spending the week at the conservation department camp at Higgins Lake.

Approximately 80 older boys from all sections of the state meet at the camp for leadership training in 4-H conservation activities. The program consists of deer and small game studies, soil conservation, fire fighting and prevention, fish surveys, insect study, geology, recreational use of lands, and archery and rifle marksmanship. The subjects are presented by members of the conservation department staff and faculty of Michigan State college.

Athletics and other recreation rounds out the week's program.

C OF C PLANS
TOUR OF FARMS

Businessmen Of City To Visit Larger Farm
Homes In County

A host of widely varied items, all of them touching on Manistique's civic affairs, were discussed and acted upon at the regular directors' meeting of the Manistique - Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening.

A report by Leonard Mulhaupt, Chamber secretary, revealed that the recently launched membership drive, while reasonably successful, is still far from the goal set. About 125 members have signed up and the budget quota is also still lagging. About half of the businessmen in the city have failed to contribute at this date. Mulhaupt stated that while he was con-dent that the necessary budget would be subscribed, it was highly important that this matter be attended to at an early date.

Tourists Accommodated

Reporting on activities of the tourist information center, maintained by the Chamber of Commerce, the secretary said 714 tourists had called at the center to ask information concerning accommodations, places to see and directions during the 26 days of August that the center was open.

The secretary reported that 134 letters were written for the Chamber of Commerce by him during that period. He also reported that solicitor cards are now available and vendors of various types may secure them provided their credentials and type of solicitation are found satisfactory. Residents of the city, before patronizing any of these out-of-town vendors should ask to see the vendor's card, the secretary stated.

The directors accepted arrangements to send someone to LaCrosse, Wis., to confer with owners of the site of the Father Baraga mission concerning its purchase. The mission, built in 1832, is located on the shore of Indian Lake near Arrowhead Inn.

Much time was spent at the meeting in discussing a contemplated trip by local businessmen to some of the larger farms in Schoolcraft county. This trip will be made some time in early October and Walter Linderoth will be chairman of the committee to be named to arrange for this tour.

The directors voted to set aside $25 to be used in purchasing awards to be given at the Potato Boosters dinner on October 23.

The secretary was instructed to write to the highway department and find out if the Straits bridge plan is still being considered.

Improve Curve On Deer Street

The curve connecting Deer and River streets, scene of numerous accidents, is being made safer by the application of tar and chipped limestone.

Two layers each of tar and rock have been put on the paving for the purpose of giving that portion of the street a rougher surface and thus giving motorists approaching this place at a disadvantage, better control of their vehicles.

This thoroughfare, which is a part of Highway US-2 and therefore subjected to much traffic, is particularly dangerous after heavy rains and also in the winter when there is ice or slush on the streets. Most of the accidents have occurred at night when strangers unfamiliar with the curve have failed to properly negotiate it and have vaulted the sidewalk and landed into boggy ground straggling ahead. It is believed that by giving the street a rough surface, many of these mishaps will be avoided.

The county road crew is doing the work.

Recent guests at the home of Mrs. Edwin Wessel were her mother, Mrs. Martha King, and her sister, Mrs. Eugene Phillips, who have returned to their home in Saugatuck.

The marriage rate in the United States dropped sharply in 1918, skyrocketed in 1920, dropped again to a low point in 1922, recovered in 1923 and then fluctuated in a narrow range for several years.

marriage by her brother-in-law Raymond Hulla, was lovely in an ice blue gown of satin with close fitting bodice and full skirt which ended in a long train. Her finger-tip veil, edged in wide lace, was caught by a white laced crown. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

The bridesmaid, Patricia Smith Middaugh, a close friend and classmate of the bride, wore a pale blue celanese gown with small white dots, fashioned with a tight fitting bodice and a full skirt with ruffles in the back which in their natural folds, formed a semi-bustle. She carried a colonial bouquet of baby mums. Earl Ring, close friend of the young couple, was best man. Leonard and Ma-coin Flodin, brothers of the groom, ushered.

Mrs. Winkel attended her daughter's wedding wearing a dark blue crepe dress and a corsage of baby mums and roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a grey dress with a corsage of yellow roses.

A reception for friends and relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Garden flowers were used as decorations. Two large bowls of chrysanthemums were placed on the serving table which was centered with a three tiered wedding cake which was decorated with yellow roses matching the bride's bouquet. Following the reception, a wedding dance was held at the U and I club.

Immediately following the young couple's departure from the dance, they left on an extended honeymoon trip to Seattle, Wash., and other points in the west and south. The bride chose a black gabardine suit with white accessories for traveling.

The bride is a graduate of Cooks high school, class of 1945, and has been attending Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette. The bridegroom attended local schools and is employed with the Landerth Farm Supply.

Upon their return they will make their home at Indian Lake.

Munising Ball Club Shows Fine Spirit

Members of the Manistique Cardinal team were highly pleased over the fine spirit shown them by members of the Munising baseball club in the following letter received recently by Mason Rhoads, Cardinal manager: "Lots of luck to you and your Cardinals in your playoffs. It couldn't be us, so glad to see you get it."

Eskymo Gridders Open At Soo Tomorrow Afternoon

SQUAD LEAVES BY BUS TODAY

Ruwitich Lists Probable Starting Lineup; 22 Make Trip

The Escanaba high school Eskymos will open their eight-game 1947 football season against the Sault Ste. Marie Devils on the latter's gridiron at 2, Escanaba time, tomorrow afternoon.

Captain George Ruwitich announced last night that he would take a squad of 22 players to the Soo, but with most of them inexperienced, he offered no prediction as to the outcome of the game.

However, he had this to offer: "On our own field, we would be tough to beat, but the other fellow, likewise, is always tough to beat on his own field."

Which seemed to be the man-on-the-street to be a pretty safe prediction to make at the outset of the season.

Soo's Second Game
As the record stands, the Eskymos will have their hands full tomorrow afternoon. Warren "Moose" Gustafson, Eskymo fullback, had to sharpen his spurs to lead Escanaba to an 18-16 triumph over the Blue Devils here last season.

And the Eskymos are trekking to Soo today with only seven of 26 letters from the 1946 squad back in uniform. Soo also has the advantage of having one game under its belt, a 20-14 farical loss to the Canadian Soo last week in a twilight game that ended up in the moonlight.

The Escanaba squad will leave for the Soo by bus at 1:30 this afternoon. Tentative starters named last night by Coach Ruwitich are: Herb Nicholson, left end; Ted Gardner, left tackle; Bob Johnson, left guard; Bob Anderson, center; Dick Barron, right guard; Dave Welch, right tackle; Gary Abrahamson, right end; Ronald Johnson, quarterback; Ernie Belanger, left half; Howard Perron, right half; and Warren Gustafson, fullback.

Others making the jaunt are Steve Beggs and Matt Smith, centers; Dick Johnson, Gilbert Kangas and Bob Kenneally, guards; Don Christenson and Jim Erickson, tackles; Dave Gardner, Jim Holt, ends; Gilbert Prevost, halfback; and Howard Dufour, quarterback.

Judson, slated to start at guard, also will be available for utility fallback duty. The 190-pounder will kick off for the Eskymos. Belanger and Gustafson will share punting duties, and Belanger, Johnson and Gustafson will handle passing assignments.

Student Manager Dale Jackson also will make the trip. Escanaba's line and backfield averages approximately 165 pounds.

Two Runs In Second Give Browns 2 to 0 Win Over Senators
Washington, Sept. 11 (AP)—Sam Zoldak and Bob Muncieff collaborated in limiting Washington to six hits here tonight as the St. Louis Browns defeated the Senators 2 to 0. Zoldak retired after two innings due to sinus trouble and Muncieff received credit for the victory.

St. Louis scored its runs in the second inning at Mickey Haefer's expense. With one out Shortstop Johnny Sullivan made a two-base wild throw on Vernon Stephens' grounder and singles by Walt Judnich, Ray Coleman and Zoldak netted two runs.

It was Muncieff's seventh win of the season after 14 defeats. St. Louis ... 020 000 00—2

Munising Mustangs To Meet Marquette On Home Gridiron
Munising — The Marquette high school Mustangs will play their first home game of the season here Saturday afternoon when they play host to the Marquette Redmen.

Saturday's game will be the first of the season for the Redmen and the Mustang's second appearance on the gridiron.

A preliminary contest between the Graveland and Munising reserves will begin at 1:15, and the varsity crews will tangle at 2:30.

Last year the Redmen defeated Munising by a score of 7 to 0.

Kiner Hits 4 Homers; Tied With Mize At 47
Pittsburgh, Sept. 11 (AP)—Ralph Kiner hit four home runs to tie New York Giant Johnny Mize for the National league leadership at 47-all and to spark the Pittsburgh Pirates to a double victory, 4-3 and 10-8, over the Boston Braves before 7,610 today at Forbes Field.

Mize also got his 47th today. The opener went 13 innings, Kirby Higbe going the distance for the Bucs and winning his own game with a home run off Johnny Sain in the final frame.

Kiner hit one home run in the first game but outdid himself in the eighth, in which he smashed out three circuit clouts in the first five innings to drive in six Pirate runs.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY IIM WARD

'Tis an odd quirk of fate when a budding young football player lines up against a team with which his father used to star more than 20 years ago and representing a school which he, the youngster, attended only three years ago.

Such will be the case in West DePere, Wis., one week from tomorrow when St. Norbert's high school is host to St. Joseph's gridders of Escanaba.

Playing regular left halfback on St. Norbert's eleven will be young Charles Brotherton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brotherton, of Milwaukee, former residents of Escanaba.

Right away, many sports fans will recall how Frank used to burn up the gridiron for old St. Joe in the roaring twenties. Now his son, who was awarded a scholarship at St. Norbert's, will play against St. Joe.

We have it on good authority that Charles hopes St. Norbert's wins, of course, but, should they lose, he says it couldn't happen to a better team.

Frank Brotherton was one of the finest punters ever produced at St. Joseph's and one of its all-time greats. He played on that memorable 1924 St. Joe team that held Escanaba high school to a scoreless tie, the parochial gridders' best showing against the Eskymos.

Many Escanabans will recall that famous game played on old South Park field, which was part grass and part gravel where second and third base lines sliced the gridiron. Both St. Joe and the Eskymos were undefeated that season, including the scoreless tie, but in a postseason playoff tilt, Escanaba tipped St. Joe, 20-0.

In addition to Brotherton, some of the St. Joe gridders that day were Leo Brunelle, Mike O'Brien and Hazen Hengesh. And among the Eskymos who played that day were Jack Berrigan, Tarzan Johnson, Herman Miethe, the star of the game, and Marvin Follo, brother of Charles Follo, of Escanaba, head of the University of Michigan extension service center here.

Some may recall that three eager Eskymo freshmen broke into the lineup that day and acquitted themselves well. They were George Snyder, Ken Gunderman and Harold Smith. That was before the days of junior high schools, when ninth graders were permitted to play on the varsity.

Gunderman says he recalls missing his letter that freshman year because he slipped and fell in several inches of mud on one of the baselines at old South Park field while scampering for a touchdown after intercepting a Nogaunee pass. "It was a setup and then I hit the mud," he laughed.

Ice Skaters Defy Hot Weather To Talk About Figure Skating

The humidity may be high; old Sol is still getting in some pretty hot licks before the end of the summer, but enthusiastic members of the Escanaba Figure Skating club already are making plans for the coming season.

The first meeting of the club will be held at 7:30 p. m. next Wednesday at the city recreation center. Among other things, the club will start preparing for the big February Ice Revue.

Escanaba holds a unique place among communities of the Upper Peninsula in its endeavor to maintain and improve the caliber of figure skating among its skating devotees. The club has featured many Upper Peninsula ice carnivals in the past, and its members have won high regard for their ability. Some of them have gone on to greater glory in the name professional skating troupes.

Dr. Harold Groos is chairman of the board of directors, and other members are Hal Gerletti, Mrs. Harold Groos, Dr. Louis Groos, George Marcoviller, Al Gearts, Art Goulais, Merton Jensen, Jack Beaudin and George Grenholm.

Officers of the figure skating club are Howard Dufour, president; Bob Schwabach, vice president; and Janet Raymond, secretary-treasurer.

Wornout Softball Muscles Will Flex Here Sunday Night
It was bound to come before the season could be called officially closed.

An old timers softball clash will be the bill of fare at Memorial Field next Sunday evening, beginning at 8.

In this classic, players who used to perform on the popular league teams of years gone by will shake the kinks out and try it once again. The Ford V-8s will battle the Wells Plant. With Earl Haddy coaching, the V-8 squad is composed of Dr. Ed Hirn, George Walker, Cliff "Meaty" Beaudin, Roy Johnson, Arnold "Dopey" Johnson, Henry "Flash" Brown, Dennis "Agitator" McGinn, Hugh Gartland and Bill Ranguette.

Members of the Wells plant team, coached by Dufour, are Carl Lemke, Lester Noel, Fred Gardner, Joe Gardner, Clarence Greis, Frank Winchester, Warne Johnson and Charlie Johnson.

The man-on-the-street reported yesterday that both aggregations have been holding secret practices, and no telling what the opponents may have cooked up for this gathering of wornout softball muscles.

HANDLER IS SILENT
Cincinnati, Sept. 11 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler practiced again today what he has been trying to preach to Larry MacPhail—silence—after a conference with the loquacious one in connection with statements he made about that forbidden subject, Leo Durocher.

Cleveland Divides Pair With Bosox
Boston, Sept. 11 (AP)—The second-place Boston Red Sox split a twin bill with the Cleveland Indians today and thereby maintained a half-game edge over the third-rung Detroit Tigers who divided two with the front running Yankees.

The Indians took a free hitting opener 10-8 and the Sox won the darkness-abridged closer, 8-3. The nightcap was called after five and a half innings.

Joe Gordon set a new Cleveland record for home runs by a right handed batter by poling his 27th of the year in the opener in which he drove in six runs.

YANKS SPLIT WITH TIGERS

Must Win Four, Or Sox Must Lose Four To Clinch Pennant

New York, Sept. 11 (AP)—The New York Yankees moved a step nearer the American League flag today when they divided a doubleheader with the Detroit Tigers, winning the second game 11-5 after Hal Newhouse had beaten them 7-2 in the opener.

The Yankees' split, together with the dividing of a pair of games by the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland, reduced the magic number to four. That is the combination of games the Yankees must win or the Red Sox must lose in order to insure the flag for the Yanks.

The Yanks spotted the Tigers four runs in the first inning of the nightcap, then came on to score four runs in the third and six in the fourth innings to win.

Joe Di Maggio, who was held hitless by Newhouse in the opener, connected for his 19th home run, a double and single to lead the Yankees. Bill Revers, who replaced Starter Charley Wensloff in the first inning after Roger Cramer, Ed Lake and Pat Mullin had cracked home runs, held the Tigers to one run the rest of the way despite nine walks. Lefty Stub Overmire was the loser.

Newhouse twirled a six-hitter to register his 15th win against 16 losses. The loser was Frank Shea, who had beaten Newhouse in three previous duels.

Perkins, Cooks Nines To Clash Twice Sunday In Bay De Noc Playoff

Perkins, Sept. 11—All is calm on the Bay de Noc Baseball league front today.

All difficulties have been ironed out, and the stage is set for the best-two-of-three championship series between Cooks, first-half champion, and Perkins, second-half titlist.

As a compromise, two games will be played next Sunday, the first at Perkins at 11:30 a. m. and the second at Cooks at 3:30 p. m.

If a third game is necessary, it will be played at Rock Sunday afternoon, Sept. 21.

Both Perkins and Cooks will be at full strength for the Sunday playoff engagements, their managers avowed this afternoon.

Cooks is proud of the fact that in regular season's play it defeated Perkins twice, 22-1 and 12-8, but it is a matter of record that Perkins has improved considerably.

Perkins tied with Rapid River with six triumphs and one defeat for the second-half lead. In a playoff game at Nahma last Sunday, Perkins triumphed, 11-7. Cooks was unbeaten in first-half play and ended the season with 11 victories and three losses.

Nahma, Payette and Rapid River registering victories over the first-half champions.

Bay City, Mich., Sept. 11 (P)—Arthur R. Osbourn, 30, shot and killed his wife, Frances, today and then killed himself with the same gun, police reported.

The bodies of the couple were found lying on the kitchen floor of their home by the slain woman's mother Mrs. Helen Dukarski.

Mrs. Dukarski told police she rushed to the home and smashed in a door after her daughter had telephoned her to "come over here quick—something's going to happen."

Police Chief Frank W. Anderson said Osbourn, a foreman in an auto supply plant, shot his wife through the heart with a .32 caliber automatic pistol, then turned the weapon on himself.

Mrs. Dukarski said the couple had been having domestic troubles for several years and Osbourn had threatened his wife before.

Mrs. Osbourn filed suit for divorce last Aug. 20 and went to live with her mother, according to police, but was reconciled with her husband a short time later.

Anderson said another divorce suit had been filed four years ago after Osbourn had shot at his wife and her father, a night club operator. Osbourn was charged on a felonious assault charge at that time, the police chief said, but the case was dismissed when his father-in-law refused to testify against him.

Chryslers Shipped With No Carburetor Because Of Strike

Detroit, Sept. 11 (P)—A strike of carburetor workers in St. Louis was disclosed tonight to be affecting at least one automobile producer.

Chrysler Corp. reported the three-week-old strike at the Carter Carburetor Co. was making it necessary to ship out at least 70 per cent of its passenger cars without carburetors.

A Chrysler spokesman said, however, that actual production of passenger cars was not being disturbed. Chrysler now is producing at a reported two-third capacity, or about 4,000 cars a day.

Without a carburetor, an automobile won't run.

Chrysler said all its dealers had been advised of the situation.

Windows Shattered, Trees Blown Down By Houghton Storm

Houghton, Mich., Sept. 11 (P)—Houghton county returned to near-normalcy today after being lashed by virtually tornadic winds during a severe electrical storm Wednesday night.

The area was isolated for a time but emergency crews restored telephone and other communication lines during the morning.

Trees uprooted by 75-mile-an-hour winds still sprawled across the ground and there was only debris left from a roof blown off a school in Hurontown and carried a hundred feet. Many win-

Cold Front Heads Toward Michigan; Rains Are Heavy

(By The Associated Press)
Scattered, severe thundershowers fell throughout Michigan last (Thursday) night and the weather bureau said a cold front was headed toward the state in their wake.

Temperatures Friday were expected to range in the 70's.

State Police said they received reports of scattered damage due to the hard rains. There were local power failures at Chelsea, Hartland and Woodland and small power failures in Detroit, the police said.

The Clinton River at Rochester was reported near flood stage.

Two men were hit by lightning, in Mount Clemens and Warren township, but their condition was not believed serious.

Most of the damage apparently was due to lightning. Very little wind accompanied the rain.

A schoolhouse and a barn near Traverse City burned after being struck by lightning.

Several highways were blocked by fallen trees. The roads included M-28 near Pontiac and U. S. 10 near U. S. 24.

Chicago Man Gives Away 20 Horses; 16,141 Want Them

Chicago, Sept. 11 (P)—Next Monday will be a big day for some 16,000 fans of the horseback variety.

Maynard Dowell said today that he is going to reach Monday into a hatful of 16,141 slips of paper and pull out the names of 50 people.

After investigating them, he will decide which 20 of the 50 will get his 20 saddle horses—for free.

Dowell, president of the American Standardizing Building Corp., started it all when he announced last month that he was going to give away his string of horses, provided he could find people who would give them good treatment, cultural surroundings, and the correct amount of hay and oats.

He was flooded with 16,141 letters and numerous phone calls and telegrams from people who said they loved horses and would treat his horses right.

Dowell said: "I don't know why they're so anxious. Maybe they don't know that to keep a horse costs money."

Downs also were shattered. Property damage ran into thousands of dollars but there was no loss of life or injuries reported.

ductions in the cost of food and clothing.

"We are hopeful that if it is true that there are any unconscionable profiteers they will be warned by this investigation," Senator Baldwin said. Several senatorial groups are conducting the price investigation in various parts of the country.

In Vienna, Ga., Senator George (D-Ga.), predicted there would be no return to price controls, but said there is a possibility of rigid controls over exports. He said any broad foreign relief program will result in keeping prices up in this country.

Exports To Be Cut
An implied warning that American grain exports must be reduced has been sent embassies in 20 countries, Lincoln White, press officer of the state department, disclosed. He revealed that the embassies had been informed of prospective short corn and oats crops.

In Washington, Italian Ambassador Alberto Tarchiani discussed Italy's grain needs with Assistant Secretary of State Norman Armour. Tarchiani gave Armour a copy of a speech made yesterday by Italian Premier Alcide De Gasperi, in which the premier said Italy's grain allocations were "absolutely insufficient." Larger American shipments were urged.

In Paris, France, an unnamed participant in the Paris economic conference said the 16 western nations involved will seek slightly less than $19,000,000,000 in United States aid under the Marshall plan to buy food and productive equipment.

Down where the prices are set—in the nation's primary markets—hogs led the pace for an upturn which carried the Associated Press whole commodity price index to a new record high for the seventh consecutive day. The average was 194.99 compared with 100 in 1926.

BOYCOTT WON IN 1920
Essex, Conn., Sept. 11 (P)—Ches-ter Bowles recalled tonight that widespread public reaction, including boycotts and consumer picket lines, licked high prices after the First World War and said a similar movement now "may do the trick again."

"It is high time," the former OPA administrator said in a statement on the current price situation, "that the average American family which has suffered so drastically from inflationary prices in the past fifteen months rose up on its hind legs and said, 'We've had enough.'"

Bowles said that "the method which finally licked the inflation of 1919-1920 may be our last practical resort."

"In the winter of 1920 in the face of higher and still high prices," he said, "housewives and everyday citizens by the millions organized themselves into groups which boycotted all products on which the prices were drastically out of line."

"Mass meetings were held in major cities throughout the country and an aroused public in many parts of the country even picketed stores where prices were particularly out of line."

"It may be that a movement of this kind, springing up all through the United States, may do the trick again."

Peace Pact Signed,
And Allied Military
Forces Leave Italy

BY GEORGE BRIA
Rome, Sept. 11 (P)—Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee, American commander in Italy, announced today that withdrawal of Allied military forces from Italy in compliance with the peace treaty would begin tomorrow and that he would leave the command to return to the United States "as soon after R-day as possible."

The Allies will complete ratification of the treaty Monday, "R-day," by depositing their signed copies in Paris. Lee told a news conference that the last troops would be en route home or redeployed by Dec. 14, the 90-day deadline set by the treaty.

The American commander, whose administration in the Mediterranean theater has been under investigation by the war department as a result of a series of articles last month by Scripps-Howard reporter Robert Ruark, accusing officers in the theater of high living, said his own orders to depart were issued by the secretary of war last June 10.

He said he would turn over the command to Maj. Gen. Lawrence C. Jaynes, native of Coalition, Ohio, new deputy commander.

He added that after his return to the United States he would be stationed in San Francisco but "hoped to retire from the Army under a request which Gen. Eisenhower granted me last February."
